Angoss Software Cited As A Strong Performer by Independent Research Firm's Study of Predictive Analytics and Data Mining Solution Vendors

Toronto, Canada – February 9, 2010 – Angoss Software Corporation (TSX-V: ANC), a leading provider of data mining and predictive analytics solutions for the financial services and information and communications technology industries, today announced that it has been positioned as a strong performer in the February 2010 report, The Forrester Wave™: Predictive Analytics And Data Mining Solutions, Q1 2010. Among the select companies that Forrester Research invited to participate in its report, Angoss scored a 4 out of a possible 5 for strategy, with a “strong PA/DM (predictive analytics/data mining) direction, both at the corporate and product level.” The report noted that “Angoss supports integrated modeling of multiple business scenarios through such features as strategy maps, champion-challenger modeling, and automatic best-model selection, thereby standing in the vanguard of PA/DM vendors that help customers become more thoroughly predictive enterprises”.

“Angoss remains committed to a product roadmap of continuous, client-focused innovation that delivers measurable business value to business stakeholders in sales, marketing and risk management through operationally embedded analytics for continuous business performance improvements”, said David Stott, Angoss director of product management. “Our positioning in the Forrester Wave™ recognizes Angoss as a market challenger to traditional statistical tool-based approaches and reflects our focus on delivering rich solutions to advance a wide range of business objectives across the enterprise.”
